Opposite the registration desk Linear Series sectional seating forms a new TV lounge area at one end of the lobby, where guests can catch up on the news, wait for transportation, or meet friends. Sections form two “L” groups, seating ten people, with one bench on concealed casters for easy rearrangement.

The Linear Series works with the angular architecture of planters, creating a lounge focused on the TV within a small space. Securely connected in the plan shown, the sections can be reconfigured to a variety of new groupings in the future if desired.

Practical as well as flexible, the cushions, secured by attachments, are reversible. All components feature replaceable covers, for quick repair or for change to new décor.
