

Grapevine Public Library Grapevine, Texas

Above:
A sculpture representing the many people served by their community library, its title "Who Has A Book" welcomes visitors to the new library addition.

Imagine your first trip to the library...coming in by the big glass doors you see an archway of rocks and vines to the Children's Section... your entry to the magical world of books. Follow the cobblestone carpet to the Story House, and join in an adventure with other kids listening to the storyteller. Or check the shelves for fun books, taking some to read in "just my size" chairs.

Laurel Jr. chairs create a special children's seating area, inviting them to stay awhile. Next to the Jr. chairs are full size Laurel Series chairs, where family members can share books with their children or wait for them during story hour. A pleasant trip for everyone!
