Linn Jr. chairs create a friendly space "just my size" for children within the large open lobby of the Medical Center. Chairs and segments enclose their special area; matching benches add casual forms to play on.

The furniture is as practical as it is cute: each form is designed for strength, stability, and safety. Their removable covers can be cleaned or replaced, and the units can be rearranged to new layouts if the space is changed in the future.

Kids are immediately attracted to their special place, making a trip to the doctor just a little bit nicer for the whole family.
