

Dallas School of Music
Dallas, Texas

Even a 15 x 22 foot entry space can be made into five seating areas. In the future these chairs and tables can be rearranged or others added to grow with the school when they move to larger facilities.

Bright and lively decor for toddlers to grandparents to watch their music lessons!

The Dallas School of Music wanted a friendly new reception area for students of all ages and their families. Laurel Series chairs and segments met their goal of seating for at least 20 people, divided into smaller social groupings. Non-skid glides and plinth base connectors keep all of them neatly in place on the tile. Fabric "Chatterbox" woven crypton hits high notes of color and pattern; its stain barrier wipes clean in a jiffy, protecting the furniture for years of use.
